A valued staff is a productive staff

MIE ignites hospitality staff to achieve career goals

Expert Mentoring Service

Mentoring and guiding employees is a win-win situation. The employee develops loyalty to your organization and foresees a career future. It is estimated that 25% of hospitality managers and up to 60% of front line workers leave establishments within one year of services.

You owe it to your customers to do everything in your power to invest time in a well-trained staff.

MIE, your mentorship strategic partner, develops, manages and reports back to you on the success, status and progress of established mentorship goals.

Why is mentoring so important to an organization?

- Mentoring is the most powerful vehicle available for achieving results and building organizational capability.
- Mentoring commitments are one of the most powerful statements a company can make.
- Mentoring clarifies an employee's goals and reinforces their accountability.
