A VISIT TO SCHENECTADY CREATES QUITE AN IMPRESSION

Linda Ristig

I'll admit, I didn't even know how to spell Schenectady, let alone pinpoint where it was located in New York. However a recent weekend conference organized by Voice Coaches.com, a local voiceover company, found me as a recent visitor to your town.

I only touched on a few of the wonders within Schenectady. Taking time to step outside and learn about your surroundings can create unexpected and marvelous adventures. Thank you, Schenectady, for a lovely, welcoming visit!

Thank you for helping to make our event a tremendous success. In addition to being a beautiful venue - the GE Theater was perfect - and the area outside the theater was fantastic for our dessert reception. The staff was tremendous and the parking was convenient and plentiful. We look forward to more events at Proctor's.

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD PUBLIC CONFERENCE,

Mary Liz Stewart

Schenectady was a great place to hold a conference - easily accessible by personal and public transportation. The Schenectady Chamber staff was extremely helpful in locating accommodation options, providing information about Schenectady, and being available whenever guidance was requested. I would, without any hesitation, return to Schenectady for holding future events.

Proctors was the perfect venue for our annual NYS Geospatial Summit. The distinctive and unique Proctor's atmosphere provided a relaxed and attractive atmosphere for both attendees and speakers.
